

SOUTH CAROLINA.; Gov. Perry's Proclamation for Reconstruction Loyal Citizens Urged to Take the Oath of Allegiance Elections to be Held According to the Laws of South Carolina.

Published: August 6, 1865

Whereas, His Excellency, President JOHNSON, has issued his proclamation appointing me (BENJAMIN F. PERRY) Provisional Governor in and for the State of South Carolina, with full power to prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary and proper for convening a convention of the State, composed of delegates to be chosen by that portion of the people of said State who are loyal to the United States, for the purpose of altering or amending the constitution thereof, and with authority to exercise within the limits of the State all the powers necessary and proper to enable such loyal people to restore said State to its constitutional relations to the Federal Government, and to present such a republican form of State Government as will entitle the State to the guarantee of the United States thereof, and its people to the protection of the United States against invasion, insurrection and domestic violence.

Now, therefore, in obedience to the proclamation of his Excellency, ANDREW JOHNSON, President of the United States, I, BENJAMIN F. PERRY, Provisional Governor of the State of South Carolina, for the purpose of organizing a Provisional Government in South Carolina, restoring civil authority in said State, under the Constitution and laws of the United States, do hereby proclaim and declare that all civil officers in South Carolina, who were in office when the civil government of that State was suspended, in May last, (except those arrested or under prosecution for treason,) shall on taking the oath of allegiance prescribed in the President's Amnesty Proclamation of the 29th day of May, 1865, resume the duties of their offices, and continue to discharge them under the provisional government until further appointments are made.

And I do further proclaim, declare and make known, that it is the duty of all loyal citizens of the State of South Carolina to promptly go forward and take the oath of allegiance to the United States, before some magistrate or military officer of the Federal Government, who may be qualified for administering oaths, and such are hereby authorized to give certified copies thereof to the persons respectively by whom they were made. And such magistrates or officers are hereby required to transmit the originals of such oaths, at as early a day as may be convenient, to the Department of State, in the City of Washington, D.C.

And I do further proclaim, declare and make known, that the managers of elections throughout the State of South Carolina will hold an election for members of a state Convention, at their respective precincts, on the first Monday of September next, according to the laws of South Carolina in force before the secession of the State, and that each election district in the State shall elect as many members of the convention as the said district had members of the House of Representatives -- the basis of representation being population and taxation. This will give one hundred and twenty-four members to the convention -- a number sufficiently large to represent every portion of the State most fully Every loyal citizen who has taken the amnesty oath, and not within the excepted classes in the President's proclamation, will be entitled to vote, provided he was a legal voter under the Constitution as it stood prior to the secession of South Carolina. All who are within the excepted classes must take the oath and apply for a pardon, in order to entitle them to vote or become members of the convention.

The members of the convention thus elected on the first Monday in September next, are hereby required to convene in the city of Columbia, on Wednesday, the 13th day of September, 1865, for the purpose of altering or amending the present Constitution of South Carolina, or remodeling or making a new one, which will conform to the great changes which have taken place in that State, and be more in accordance with the republican principles and equality of representation.

And I do further proclaim and make known that the constitution and laws in force in South Carolina, prior to the secession of the State, are hereby made of force under the provisional government, except wherein they may conflict with the provisions of this proclamation. And the judges and chancellors of the State are hereby required to exercise all the powers and perform all the duties which appertain to their respective offices, and especially in criminal cases. It will be expected of the Federal military authorities, now in South Carolina, to lend their authority to the civil officers of the provisional government, for the purpose of enforcing the laws and preserving the peace and good order of the State.

And I do further command and enjoin all good and law-abiding citizens of the State to unite in enforcing the laws and bringing to justice all disorderly persons, all plunderers, robbers and mauraders, all vagrant and idle persons who are wandering about without employment or any visible means of supporting themselves.

It is also expected that all former owners of freed persons will be kind to them, and not turn off the children or aged to perish; and the freedmen and women are earnestly enjoined to make contracts, just and fair, for remaining with their former owners, In order to facilitate, as much as possible, the applications for pardons under the excepted sections of the President's Amnesty Proclamation, it is stated, for information, that applications must be by petition, stating the exception, and accompanied with the oath prescribed. The petition must be first approved by the Provisional Governor, and then forwarded to the President. The headquarters of the Provisional Governor will be at Greenville, where all communications to him must be addressed.

The newspapers of this State will publish this proclamation until the election for members of the convention.

In testimony whereof, I have hereto set my hand and seal. Done at the town of Greenville, this twentieth day of July, in the year of Lord eighteen hundred and sixty-five, and of the Independence of the United States the ninetieth.

B.F. PERRY.

By the Provisional Governor:

WM.H. PERRY, Private Secretary.
