I am interested in the Henry P. HILL listed on the 1880 census for Central, SC--the youngest son, Herbert, was my grandfather. My grandmother Minnie or Minna Lee SAMMONS married Herbert HILL in 1904 and lived in Greenville, SC; her brother, Tom, lived in Pickens Co SC and was a Jailer, I believemarried Eula WILLIAMS in 1902.

On my husband's maternal side: RICE (may be decended from Henry RICE who lived in the area about mid-1700's and son Daniel may have been born there). Daniel's son Lewis is probably the Lewis RICE who is my husband's ggrandfather, born in TN 1797, but I need to find the appropriate link.

I am descended from TAYLOR and McCAIN on my Dad's side, McALISTER and GREEN on my Mother's side--all settled very early in the area. Need help.

Need info on Rebecca BOWEN, d/o William BOWEN. Rebecca was b. 1807 and in 1826 m. a DILLARD. I would like to know his first name and who his Dad was?

This DILLARD died around 1844-1850. Rebecca and ? DILLARD'S children were in the 1850 census: Rebecca 43, Mary J. 24, B.F. 20, Elizabeth A. 15, Robert H.12, Martha F. 9, Catherine H. 6. The H in Robert H. Dillard could be Robert Harrison DILLARD or Robert Harris DILLARD.

Looking for information on a Jeptha REESE who joined the Confederate army 1864 in Pickens District, SF age 24. Married a Miss V. WILSON about the same time. He is reported buried in the Salem Baptist Church Cemetery in 1902. Any help would be appreciated. Most of my information came from old newspaper clippings.

Need info on the following: Ben HOLDER b. in Pendleton District, SC in 1825. I think he married Malinda FURGUSON and both are apparently buried in the Secona Baptist Church Cemeter according to the cemetery survey printed by Old Pendleton Chapter. I am trying to confirm that Ben and Malinda had a daughter that married George McDuffie THOMPSON, soon after the Civil War. I found the family located at Clayton Mill on the 1860 census. He is 36, Efeline 28, Rebecca 2, and Anna M. 1. I know that he was a Baptist Preacher and that he served several Churches in the Pickens Area.

In 1870 George THOMPSON and Sallie are listed in their own household with a one year old son, Harrison. In an excert from the Keowee Courier the couple had lost a 15 month old son born about 1866. My grandfather, Harrison, was less than seven when his mother died after giving birth to a daughter born 10 April 1875. The children were too young to remember their mothers name. Thus, I am looking for a Sallie or Sarah that married George M. THOMPSON about 1865. Anyone that can hlep me will be most appreciated.

THANK YOU: I spoke with the Old Pendleton District Chapter of the SC Genealogical Society back in the winter of 1997 about conducting a survey for a class at Clemson University. I sent out 200 questionnaires to selected folks from the membership list. I have completed my research and my paper from the results.

I would like to thank you all for your help, the former President, Dr William Whitten, for his permission to do this research, and all the members who responded to my questionnaire. I was pleased to see so many of the 200 sent back completed. This made my project easier. Also I would like to thank the respondents who noticed my typing error on the second page and figured out what I really meant. Thank You: Karen Dillard, Senior, Parks, Recreation and Tourism Management, Clemson University.

STEGALL-MONTGOMERY: Petition for relief as Guardian: William M. Stegall vs John T. Montgomery and others: Personally appeared R.E. Holcombe and Spencer Stegall before me and being duly sworn says on oath that they are personally acquainted with the Petitioner and that R.E. Holcombe was at the sale of the property of Thomas Montgomery dec'd that at said sale he bought a negro woman for the sum of twelve hundred and eighty dollars that said negro was sold by him to Mrs Montgomery who was administratrix of the Estate of said Thomas Montgomery dec'd and she because payer to the estate and subsquently the said Mary A. Montgomery was appointed guardian for her two minor children, John T. and Mary E. and settled her administratrix by turning over to herself as Guardian the amount due her said children and that upon her marriage with William M. Stegall the letters of Guardianship granted to her were revoked and Letters granted to the said William M. Stegall.

That the Guardianship of Mrs Montgomery was settled in the same way by simply crediting herself with the amount and charging the same by William M. Stegall in his return as so much recd from Mary A. former Guardian where in fact not one dollar in money was ever paid, applicants futher say that there were four other negroes sold at the said sale of Thomas Montgomery dec'd estate which also went into the hands of the therein administratrix and they is fully satisfied from their knowledge of the affaris of said estate that at least three fourths of the said estate was negroes but by the widow which were lost to ber by emancipation. Dated 4 Oct 1869 Sg: R.E. Holcombe, Spencer Stegall. Wit: J.E. Hagood share,' and he replied, 'I have got my share already.'

"They took Amos into their midst and drove off rapidly. I hadn't got Amos out yet, so as they drove on I ran on down the fence by their side until they got to the next house, Mr Pepper's which was not far off, and then I heard them holler 'whoa' and call for old man Pepper. Mr Pepper started to bring out a light, but Barton ordered him not to bring it there. I was standing a few feet from him in the darkness watching for a chance to rescue Amos, but could not tell him from the others. He had untied himself in the wagon, however, while we were fighting and suddenly I heard some one holler, 'He's gone! he's gone!' and then several shots were fired; but I knew he had got off safely.

"I then thought I would rush in and cut the traces and recapture my horses, but thought they might hit me, so I stood still. They all went into the house, and I went off and whistled for Amos, who came to me and told me I had wounded Barton and Hendricks. We went back together to watch the house, and I looked through the window and saw them all sitting before the fire. I could have killed Barton or any of them, they were not ten feet from me; but I wouldn't shoot any one down in another man's house.

"The next morning I saw them again in the road in the one horse wagon and wanted to shoot Jamison, but Amos begged me not to do it and I wouldn't. Presently the others came along and Gary was riding on my horse by the side of Dr Earle who had been attending the wounded. It made me mad to see him on my horse, after all that had happened, but I would not shoot at him for fear of wounding Earle, who was between us. Gary had gotten him to ride by him. At last I saw Earle go a little ahead, and I saw my chance and fired and hit him. Earle helped him back on my horse and then I never saw men run so in my life.

"I thought I would stop them so I shot my own horse; he commenced staggering, but he was game and kept going, and I followed on after them as fast as they and I could run. They crossed a creek and stopped and Gary hollered back to me, 'Come over here and I will kill you.' I had only one pistol, but I started towards him. I had to cross the creek on a small log, and loaded as I went. Before I could get across they commenced running again, and I called out to them to 'wait and I would kill every one of them. That is the way you do, you steal all a man has and then run!'

"I then turned and went back. Gary had dropped his hat in the road, and I found it and tore it all to pieces. He had my overcoat, a shawl I had paid twenty-eight dollars for, and also my hat and boots and a fine dress coat. They gave the hat and boots and coat to negroes living on the roadside. I heard of it and gave out the word that I would kill them all if they didn't bring them back. They brought them that same night, and I found them hanging on the wagon the next morning. The revenue officers carried off my shawl and overcoat and kept them for their own use.

REDMOND CONFRONTS BARTON

"The next day I sent word to Barton that if he would return my horses and money and have my wagon mended, I would call all square between us and be done with it. He refused to do it, so a few days later I raised a company of about twelve men from _____ creek and went to call on him.

"We rode all that night. It was very dark and we missed the way, and I rode into a cut in the railroad. It was very deep and I had a hard fall. My horse fell on me and knocked my leg out of joint. I thought it was broken it hurt so, but I called to the boys to halt or they would ride in too. One of them was so close that as he wheeled, his horse's hind legs slipped over thedge and threw dirt down on me. I heard one of them say. 'He's killed, let's go back home.'

"I found my horse was not hurt much so I got on him and rode down the track until I could get out, and went back to them. My leg was hurting very badly, so I called one of the boys to me and told him to catch hold and pull as hard as he could. He did so, and my leg slipped back with a pop which I thought could have been heard a hundred yards off. I did not say anything about it.

"We had no light except matches, and burned about five boxes of them in trying to find our way. We got to Easley Station that night, and some of the boys wanted to go on at once to Barton's house. I said, 'No, let us wait until day and go like men; I am no robber or horse thief and what I do. I propose to do by daylight. They go in like dogs, don't let us do like them!'

"We stayed at the station until daylight and a man asked me where I was going. I replied, 'bird hunting!'. That was what the officers had said when they started after me. I got some amunition at Easley and we started down the road. One of the boys tried to prime his old flint and steel rifle as he galloped along, and he left a trail of powder for half a mile.

"When we got nearly to Barton's house we saw a negro run in and as we closed around the house I saw Barton steal out and crawl under it. Mrs Barton came out wringing her hands and screaming, but I told her not to be alarmed as I didn't want to hurt anybody. I asked where her husband was and she said he was in Greenville. I told her he was under the house and asked her to call him out. She said I had come to kill him. but I told her no, I only came to get my horses and money. She asked if I would give her my hand on that?

"I did so and she called Barton, who came crawling out on his hands and knees. It had been raining and he was very muddy; he came forward to me. 'Redmond. I know you have come to kill me.' I told him I only came for my property, my horses and wagon, and he replied that they were in Greenville, but that he could go there and get them, or I

THE END

A Sunday Afternoon visit to Old Pickens

On Sunday, November 23, 1997 my parents, Clyde and Geneva HUNTER YOUNGBLOOD, and I traveled to the banks of the Keowee River to mark the grave of my father's great-grandparents. Samuel and Gracie Ann MARTIN YOUNGBLOOD had been buried beside the Keowee since the 1870's and family tradition had kept the information alive – but the graves were not marked very well.

Samuel and his first wife Martha had traveled from the Edgefield District around 1810 to a farm on Four Mile Creek where the creek intersects the Keowee River. At the point where the river makes a huge curve called Big Bend or Hughes Bend, they farmed and raised four children.

In 1828, the new town of Pickens was established across the river from the Youngblood farm. We know it today as Old Pickens. The town was located near the center of the Pickens District, our current Oconee and Pickens Counties. The town grew to perhaps 1,600 people and was the center of area activities in the years just before the Civil War. The town newspaper, the Keowee Courier, heralded the news of insurrection and the victory at Fort Sumter, but shut down soon afterward because of the War.

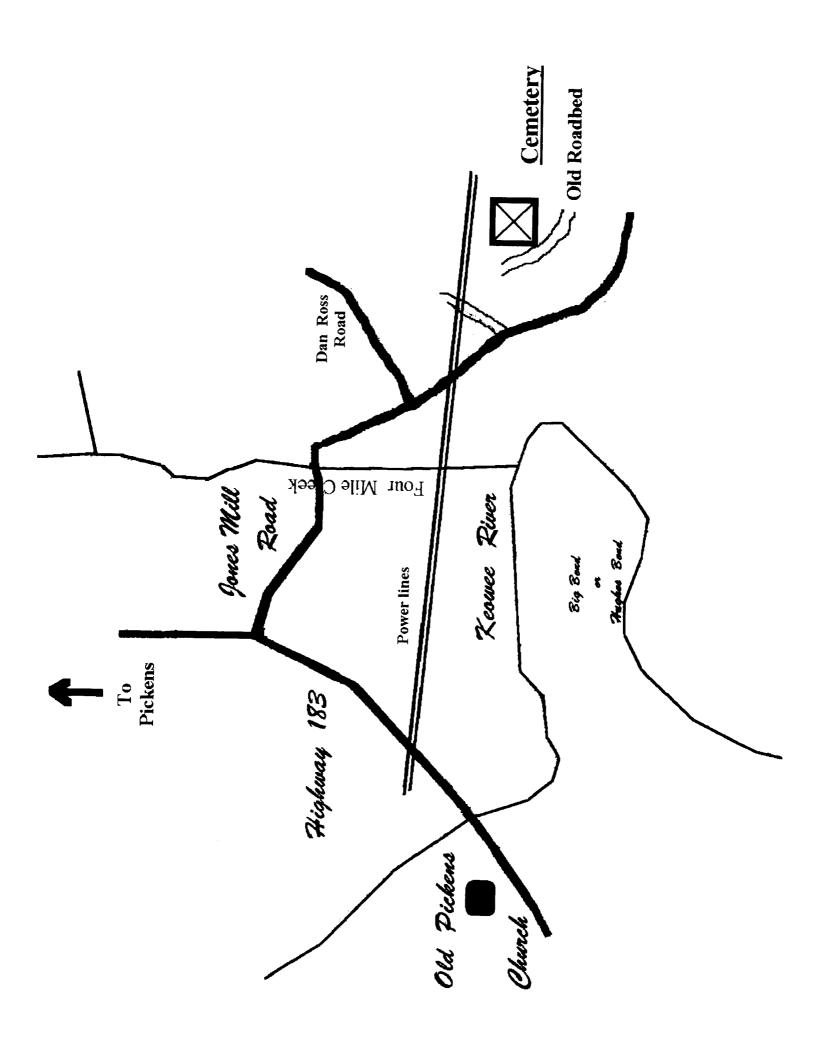

Martha died in the early 1840's and Samuel married his next door neighbor, Gracie Ann MARTIN and they had six children.

In 1868 the town moved. Houses and stores were moved brick by brick and board by board - part to Pickens and part to Walhalla. All that remained was a brick church, some burying grounds, and a few memories.

Samuel and Gracie are still there - buried near their home. They have more than 900 YOUNGBLOOD descendants in the Pickens area. At least two and perhaps three times, descendants have placed markers on their graves in loving memory.

The graveyard, containing perhaps 100 graves, is on a wooded knoll overlooking the Keowee River. An old roadbed circles the edge of the hill. Most of the graves are marked with fieldstones and are slightly sunken. Several of graves have low rock walls to mark the edges. In the center of the graveyard there is a three-foot deep hole that is six feet long by six feet wide. Perhaps it is a mass grave.

Was there a church in this location? Who are the people? What are their stories?

Linda,

Please see what you can do with this info. I'd be tickled pink to find a link to the past of my G-G-GF. I'm a relatively new member, and did send in some info on this subject with my subscription.

If there is any duplication or overlap, you'll know what to do. Thanks much, Howard Will Howard QUERY: Bottom Line. Joseph Mitchell, Sr. is my G-G-GF, and reportedly born in SC, 1802. Barnabas & Levi Bailey married two of his daughters. I have run into a brick wall in finding his ancestors, parents and beyond. I reason, that since the Baileys who were born in Ancerson Co., SC went to AL and married his daughters, that the Bailey's parents and the parents of my G-G-GF must have been acquainted there in Anderson Co., SC.

GEE, some help out there in finding the parents of my G-G-GF will be appreciated.

Howard M. Mitchell, 1239 Downer Dr., Charleston, SC 29412. (843) 795-0682

Home on the World Wide Web

In the April Newsletter we reported that it is now possible to download a GEDCOM file of the entire Old Pendleton Database from an Internet file server. Thanks to the help of Murray Looper we have made further progress and now the Old Pendleton District Chapter has its own Home Page on the World Wide Web. Here is the address:

http://www.geocities.com/bourbonstreet/delta/8155

Here is the good news about our home page: The service is available to the Chapter at no charge. A not insignificant consideration since many commercial services will charge around $20 per month for such a service. At present we feature information about the Chapter, a membership application blank and a meeting calendar. Additionally there is a 'one click' link to the file server for those who want to download a GEDCOM of the Old Pendleton Database. There are also links to many other sites of SC genealogical interest. All in all, the Home Page provides 'one stop' entry for much genealogical exploration.

In addition to the present space we also have already secured a second six megabyte page on the GeoCities server and an additional ten megabyte page on the Web4Free file server. So, for future projects we will have ample server space.

The downside to all this? Since GeoCities is a free service, it needs advertising and sponsors to pay for all the expense of maintaining the hard- and software. So, when you access the page, there is a good chance that the first thing you will see might be a commercial. If this is the case, just click on the 'Close' button and then there will be full access to our home page. There is also the possibility that either the home page or the file server will be down for maintenance. If this is the case, just try again at another day or another time.

The idea for the home page is to provide a meeting place for all the members or membership prospects in 'Cyberspace'. We solicit your suggestions as to what items or features to add. Space will not be a problem. Also, if you already have a page on the WEB with your own family information, tell us and we will gladly link to your page.
