J. M. Phillips

Born March 7, 1857, author of Shiloh, the story of a Baptist church for 95 years. Started the smallest print shop in the world in Seneca in 1880—type case 7x7 inches, 3a fonts. Went to school 11 months. Seen here picking odd strains from Litz's E major Polonaise from a two hundred year old Strad. Established Farm and Factory in 1903. Taught school at Shiloh in 1877 and furnished Martin's Creek locals for Keowee Courier. Worked for James P. Harrison & Co., State Printers for Georgia, in 1885, at $1.35 a week. Attended King's wedding at Shiloh in 1866. King was 17 at this time. Immediately after the ceremony he broke out with, "When I was a single man, I had peace and pleasure; now I am a married man, I've trouble in full measure."

John, Evelyn, Loutitia and Andrew Phillips (left to right) lined up before Hug Phillips' Farm and Factory camera. They stand in front of Stephen Baldwin's residence, built 117 years ago. In this building in March 1832 (Church Record), "A number of brethren living on Martin's Creek and neighborhood thereof, believing it would promote the cause of God to have an arm of the Hebsibah Church established in their neighborhood, petition for that privilege this day granted." Shiloh's first church conference was held in this house April 14, 1832, and the first three members taken in were Uriah and Elizabeth Hembree, by letter, and Mary Phial by experience.

Rev. H.N. Hayes

Born in Anderson District on July 26, 1822; died at Seneca, SC on July 18, 1889. Seneca Baptist Church was organized about 1874. Rev. H.N. Hayes was an original member and preached in the church.

Rev. W.W. Abbott

Born June 16, 1822 and died May 12, 1912. Organized Hopewell Baptist Church on May 10, 1858. He gave the land for the church. Was ordained to the ministry December 1, 1865. Served his church as pastor for a number of years; also other churches. His father-in-law came from County Kent, England, from near Gad's Hill, where Charles Dickens lived. J.M. Phillips, the editor of Lo Here! Or, Lo There!, copied the story of his life from the Baptist Courier in 1880.

This edition contains controversy between J.M. Phillips, editor and Rev. Gardner, who was born in May 1885. Rev. Gardner was pastor of Seneca Baptist Church.

Jack Hendricks from Pickens County, South Carolina

Jack Hendricks

Full name: John T. Hendricks (1903-1990)

May have also used the name: Ray Henderson

He worked in about 200 movies beginning around 1931 and most of his film work was unbilled and uncredited - i.e., he was a henchman, posse member, townsman, deputy, saloon patron, etc.

YOUNGER DAYS! When Jack Hendricks of Pickens County hit Hollywood in 1927, he was not yet old enough to vote and this is how he looked as a young man beginning a 39-year career in movie city.

The above blurb is from an unidentified newspaper. Based on the mentions of his 1927 start and 39-year career, this article and photo is probably circa 1966. On the back of this clipping, there are a few words and phrases: there is mention of "Pickensville" and the name "Hugh Hamilton" with a telephone number of "859-9363" (and he appears to be some kind of real estate agent and/or property broker). On the back of another article (not included), there's a partial ad for a business in Liberty, South Carolina.

Need information on this man. Who were his parents and where did he live? Does he have relatives in the Upstate? Contact Anne Sheriff at claytonroom@swu.edu.

Mt. Nebo Baptist
Oconee County

Sometime about 1885 some disagreements came up in the Seneca River Baptist Association and the result was a split in the churches. Led by the late Rev. W.R. Parker, New Mt. Nebo Baptist Church or Nebo #2 came out from the Old Nebo, or Nebo #1, located on the Southern Railroad. Two more churches did the same, known as Little Abel and Parker's Church.

These three churches were known as the Parker's Association. This church, Nebo #2, purchased two acres from Robert Swinger, recorded on 18 Dec 1888 at $10.00 per acres. Deacons at the time were Ephriam Wiggins, William Reese, John Milligan.
