About Our Chapter

The Old Pendleton District Chapter of the South Carolina Genealogical Society is a nonprofit, 12-36-2120(40), educational organization designed to unite those interested in the Pickens and Oconee Counties, South Carolina history and family genealogy; to encourage the preservation of documents and records; to promote educational programs; and to publish local records, history and family genealogy. The Chapter's primary goal is to assist others in their search for their ancestors and origins of birthplace.

The Chapter meets every month, except July, August and December. Meetings are held on the third Tuesday of the month from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Central-Clemson Library.

The Chapter's genealogical and historical archives are housed at the Clayton Family History Center, located in the lower level of the Rickman Library on Southern Wesleyan University campus in Central, SC. This collection contains about 3,500 books and files on family histories, state and county sources, military histories, cemetery records, immigration and passenger lists. For more information send email to claytonroom@swu.edu.

The public is welcome to visit the Clayton Center whenever the Library is open. Normal operating hours are 7:45 a.m. to 11 p.m., Monday through Thursday, 7:45 to 5 p.m. on Friday, 1 to 5 p.m. on Saturday and 6 to 10 p.m. Sunday. Hours vary during summer, for holidays and during breaks in the school year. For more information call 864-644-5074, send email to claytonroom@swu.edu, or check their website at swu.edu/academics/library.

Minutes of the Meeting of February 15, 2022

The meeting of the Old Pendleton District Chapter of the S.C.G.S. was called to order by President Keith Brown at 7:00 pm at the Clemson-Central Branch of the Pickens County Library System. After welcoming everyone, Keith asked the membership if they were interested in not having a January and February meeting in the future and have meetings in July and August. This would be of benefit to those not comfortable coming out in cold winter weather. After some discussion the idea was tabled to be discussed at a later date. The current January meeting had been cancelled due to bad weather.

Following reports by other officers, Anne Sheriff, archivist and SCGS Representative, gave a most interesting program speaking on "Joseph Chapman, Revolutionary War Soldier". After her presentation there was much discussion of members researching their ancestors who served in the Revolution and those who have already completed the research.

Pat Collins provided delicious refreshments. There were 18 in attendance.

Next meeting will be held March 15, 2022.

Respectfully Submitted,

Brenda Meyer, Secretary.

Harry Truman Liked Central Man's Spunk

Article by Jim McAllister in the Greenville News, 28 May 1973, p. 17.

Central. When Harry Truman took over as President when Franklin Roosevelt died in 1945, Lawrence Pike of Route 3, Central, saw Truman's picture in the paper and said to his wife: "Hey, I know that man. I met him in France."

It was indeed the same Harry Truman who was an artillery officer in World War I. The first time Pike talked with Truman they were training behind the lines. Pike was attached to the 156th Field Artillery. "Mr. Truman walked up to me one day and said "Son, I admire your spunk. Another time he told me, "When you say something don't back up on it."

Lawrence Pike has followed those admonitions from Truman to this day. He says what he thinks and he backs up his word.

"I think we should have dropped everything we had on North Vietnam, he says. "I don't believe in killing, but if you've got to kill a man in a war, kill him and get it over with."

When he joined the Army in the spring of 1918 and was sent to Camp Jackson for training they had him currying horses and cleaning out corrals and he didn't like it. The sergeant was beating him up and pushing him around. He didn't like that either.

So Lawrence Pike walked right into the headquarters and laid it on the line to the officer in charge. The officer was so impressed with the young man's audacity that he took him out of the stables and gave him a job drilling troops. Pike told him that he had lived all his life around Clemson College and had watched the drilling there.

Pike is equally outspoken on events today. "The Watergate ain't nothing but a dadblame mess," he says. "It's just the Democrats putting down the Republicans. The Democrats bankrupt this government every time they was in there. I was born a Democrat, but I turned a Republican several years ago."

Pike's outspoken manner was also partly responsible for landing him a wife. After he came home from the War he went to a singing at Lawrence's Chapel Methodist Church one Sunday afternoon. When a pretty girl walked by, he said to one of the other boys: "There goes my wife right there."

True to his word, he married the girl.

The Pikes live on the farm on Pike Road that has been in his family for 200 years. The house they live in was standing on the place when his great-great-grandfather Philpott bought the 500 acres for 10 cents an acre.

He pointed toward the rear of the house. "There used to be seven other rooms back there, but they were torn down more than a hundred years ago. A cyclone back before the Civil War knocked an L off the north side of the house. My grandmother told me about that.

"Right down there below that fence is the old road that used to run from Charleston to Pickens and right over there is where the first yarn mill in the upper part of South Carolina was located"

Pike was wearing a modern-day Air Force shirt that his son-in-law gave him. He went out to visit his daughter and son-in-law in Colorado Springs six or seven years ago and ran into a general who was his second lieutenant in France back during the Great War. "He was getting up in years but he said he was going to stay in until they threw him out."

You're around the Pikes only a short time before you begin to see the deep admiration, they have for each other and the fact that they are still very much in love.

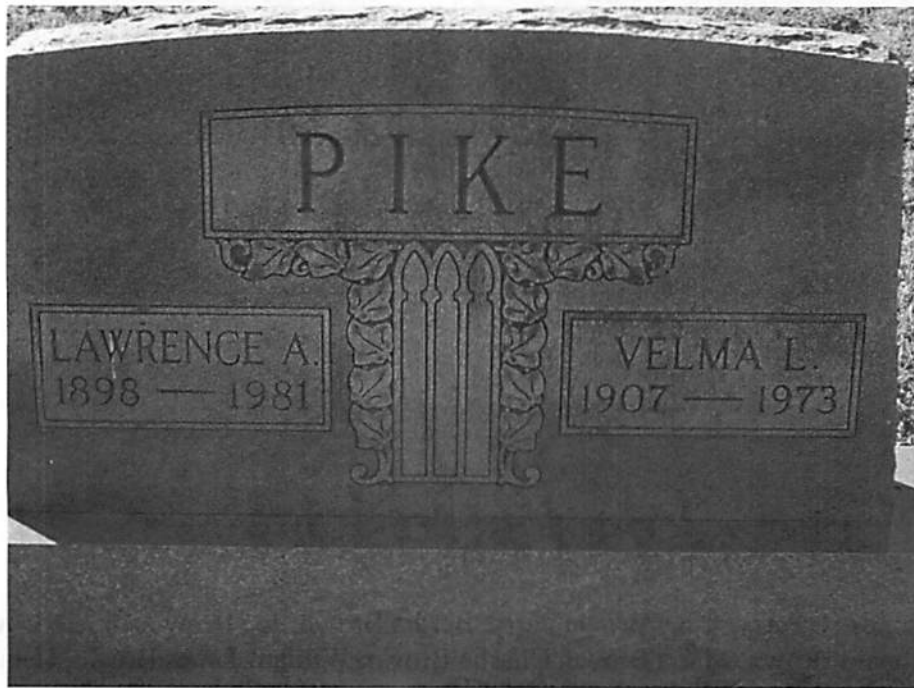

She looks at him and smiles warmly. "He's always the same. Never raises his voice. Never gets mad. Wish I could say the same."

He reciprocated. "Oh, yes, she's been a good wife. She's kept a good house and we had a good time."

Mrs. Pike has always helped around the farm, pulled her share of the load. "I've plowed, helped cut cord wood and helped load crossies. If he was hauling out fertilizer, I was right there with him.

Mr. Pike sighed, "It hasn't always been easy. There were times when we didn't know where the next sack of flour was coming from.

(Note from Anne Sheriff). The property is for sale on Pike Road, Central, SC. There is a small house on the property.

Tugalo Baptist Church And Cemetery Historical Marker

Erected by the Tugalo Baptist Church and Stephens County Historical Society in 1984:

Tugalo Baptist Church, established before 1789, was first known as the Tugalo River Church. Founded by the Rev. John Cleveland, a Revolutionary Soldier, Tugalo is the oldest church in what was then Franklin County. The county covered an area in GA and SC about the size of Rhode Island.

The church has been called "The Mother Church" of Baptist churches in this area. Cleveland was to become known as "The Father of Baptist Principles." He and the Rev. Thomas Gilbert represented Tugalo River Church when the Tugalo Baptist Association was formed in 1818.

The land upon which the church stands was deeded to the church by Robert and Sarah (Wheeler) Craig July 28, 1895, and both the church and the cemetery have remained on their original site since its founding.

In the cemetery is the grave of Henry Fricks who lived his life during three centuries. He was born in 1799 and died in 1901.

Arthur E. Brown by James G. Wilson, Greenville News, 1957:

Arthur Edwin Brown, 79, of 394 Choice St., left a Franklin County, GA farm when he was 18 to become a man of many talents in Greenville. Born May 3, 1878, he came to Greenville from the farm and became a sweeper in the old Huguenot Mill on W. Broad Street at a wage of 40 cents a day. Later he became a loom fixer and then became a city policeman for almost two years. He helped install machinery in Camperdown Mill and remained with the mill company for 18 years. He then entered the automobile repair business with Martin Bridges, later the Greenville Packard dealer, and Fred Cooper. He remained in this business until his retirement in 1951. He married the former Mariah Smith of Greenville and from this union there were four children. They are Mrs. Bessie Mull and Joe Brown of Greenville, and Donald and Willie Brown of Pensacola, Fla. His only hobby, he says, is reading. "I don't read trash," he emphasized. "I try to read something that will improve my mind." He and Mrs. Brown are members of Paris Mountain Baptist Church.

Obituary of John Thomas Mauldin

Mr. John Mauldin Dead

Mr. John Mauldin, who died in a Greenville hospital last Wednesday night, and whose body was buried at Enon church Friday, was a son of, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Mauldin, of Easley. He was an employee of the Southern railroad and his death was due to pneumonia. He was about thirty-five years of age and is survived by a wife and one child. They had been making their home in Greenville.

The death of John Thomas Mauldin left his wife and child, Mary Sue Mauldin, with no income. They are found in the census: 1920 Living with Ora's parents: Joel Henry Miller and Martha Caroline Holland. A 21-year-old servant, David D. Findley was living in the household with them. 1930 She is listed as either the head of the household or a servant of the household of Gorden M Hogsed. Another servant is listed with her: Margaret Rosemand, age 90. Negro whose mother was born in Africa. Living on the Road to Cedar Rock School House, Easley. In 1940. she is living in the household of Ann F. Finley, age 81, as a companion and working 52 weeks a year with income of 100. Daughter Mary Sue Mauldin no longer with her. The area is Maynard School District.

Martha Caroline Holland Miller

Artifacts in the Attic

By LaMarr Brooks

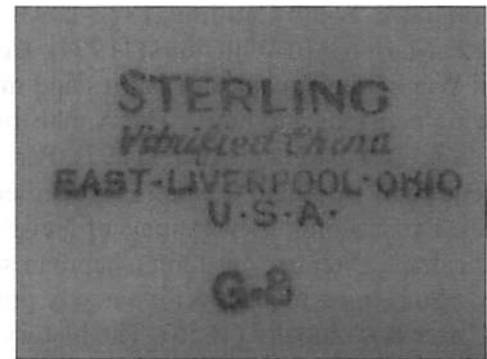

This Month's Artifact is a very large and heavy plate with the name Perkins Pancake House and the label Sterling Vitrified China, East-Liverpool, Ohio USA G-8 on the back. But before it could be read, it had to be scrubbed. My grandmother used it for her paint pallet and it was coated with the colors of the rainbow. Research discovered the Perkins Pancake House was founded in 1958 in Cincinnati, Ohio by Matt and Ivan Perkins. First called Smithies Pancake House. It served breakfast favorites all day and became famous for offering two dozen kinds of pancakes and waffles from coconut to strawberry to its classic buttermilk pancakes. Today it has over 90 franchises with 300 restaurants in 32 states throughout the US and Canada. The one in South Carolina is located in Columbia with four in Atlanta, GA and two in Charlotte, NC. Its timeline includes: 1958 Opened for the first time in Cincinnati, Ohio; 1969 Name changed to Perkins Cake & Steak; 1986 changed name to Perkins Bakery & Restaurant; 1988 Opened the first restaurant in Ontario, Canada

STERLING Label

a.k.a. Sterling China Company from the website: my tikilife/Creators

The Sterling China Company was established by B.E. Allen in 1917 with a factory in Wellsville, OH and later had offices in East Liverpool, OH. In the early years production consisted of small items such as cups, bowls, coffee mugs, ashtrays, etc. as the years went by new wares, shapes and designs were added to the line. From the very beginning the primary customer base of the Sterling China Company were hotels and the company continues to operate today as a major supplier of hotel dinnerware. During WWII they supplied a tremendous amount of china to the military and also manufactured china for a few railroad companies. Over the years Sterling China acquired other hotel ware factories such as Scammell, Lamberton, the Puerto Rico factory of Iroquois and Wellsville. It is not unusual to see Sterling China marks that include one of the above names. Shortly after WWII, Russel Wright designed a few styles for Sterling China and MOST of these pieces are clearly marked. If the backstamp includes "East Liverpool, Ohio" or "Wellsville, Ohio" then it too was made by the Sterling China Company.

The G-8 Is the Date Code for manufacturing. This one was Manufactured October – December 1969

CD: South Carolina, Volume 2      $32.00

CD: South Carolina, Volume 2 - HB Archives. This CD-ROM contains electronic image reprints of the following five books of South Carolina history: "The People's Journal" Pickens, South Carolina, 1894-1903: Historical & Genealogical Abstracts - Peggy Burton Rich & Marion Ard Whitehurst (1991). This work contains abstracts of births, deaths, marriages, sheriff's sales, clerks of court sale, mortgagee's sales, final estate settlements, notices to creditors and debtors, and a variety of other records, as published in this regional paper that covered Pickens, Oconee, Anderson, Greenville and Spartanburg counties. The Pickens Sentinel, Pickens Court House, South Carolina, 1872-1893: Historical & Genealogical Abstracts (Vols. 1 & 2) - Peggy Burton Rich & Marion Ard Whitehurst (1994). Contains pension records for survivors and widows of the War of 1812, Civil War soldiers, names of battles and men wounded or killed during these battles, widows, and survivors drawing pensions and more. The Annals of Newberry, South Carolina (Parts 1 & 2) - John Belton O'Neill, LL. D & John A. Chapman, A.M. (1892). Part First, "The Annals of Newberry Historical, Biographical and Anecdotal" by Judge O'Neill is a detailed history of the town and the district from its settlement to the early 1800s. Part Second, "The Annals of Newberry Historical, Biographical and Anecdotal; also Religious, Medical and Literary" by John Chapman starts off with a biography of the O'Neill family and of Judge O'Neill (died 1863) in particular. With a newly prepared, comprehensive index. Historical Sketches of South Carolina - McCarter & Company (1856). The history of South Carolina from the fifteenth century to 1719. It covers the discoveries in the fifteenth century, the Indians who inhabited South Carolina, the English settlement in North America, the struggle and achievement of the government, the establishment of colonies, the disqualifying and Church Acts repealed in the colony, the feeble and impoverished condition of the colony and more. History of Spartanburg County, South Carolina - J. B. O. Landrum (1900). The bulk of this book is dedicated autobiographical sketches of ninety-seven prominent figures from the early history of the county and their descendants. Fifty-eight pages list soldiers who served in the Confederate Army and about 300 pages of history. Photographs and engravings enhance this book. A complete name index is also included. The books are presented as graphic images, so the user sees the works just as they were originally published. They are intended to look and function very much like "real" books, i.e., the user looks for entries of interest in the table of contents or index, and then turns to the page cited and scans it for the desired information. This is accomplished using the Adobe Acrobat Reader, which is included on each CD for Windows and Macintosh operating systems. Although there are no electronic indexes, numerous electronic bookmarks have been added which make it easy to navigate through the books and indexes, and to jump from one book to another. This CD is best viewed with monitor resolution 800x600 or higher. 2000, CD, Graphic Images, Adobe Acrobat, v6, PC and Mac, 3334 pp. 101-CD1417 ISBN: 0788414178

The Pickens Sentinel: Favorite Newspaper of Pickens County, Volumes 1 & 2 $83.00 –

The Pickens Sentinel: Favorite Newspaper of Pickens County, Volumes 1 & 2 – Peggy Burton Rich.

Records seldom found in other sources are available in this compilation of newspaper abstracts. Pension records for survivors and widows of the war of 1812 are given in full, Civil War units and their complement of men, names of battles and men wounded or killed during these battles, widows and survivors drawing pensions are among the valuable items offered. With the coming of the railroad, large numbers of area citizens migrated to Texas, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Tennessee, North Carolina, and Georgia. Accounts are given of life in these states and the return of a few people to South Carolina.

These volumes also give abstracts of births, deaths, marriages, sheriff's sales, clerk of court sales, land sales, mortgagee's sales, final estate settlements, notices to creditors and debtors, and a variety of other valuable records that cover events in Pickens, Oconee, Anderson, Greenville, and Spartanburg Counties. Interesting accounts of crime, murder, lynching, bigamy, adultery, infanticide, moonshiners, and revenue officers are also given. The Clemson bequest to the state of South Carolina, the building of Clemson College and the new Pickens

Court House are presented with pictures of Pickens County officials and a copy of an architectural engraving of Tillman Hall, Clemson College; the week-by-week account of the building of the new town of Calhoun is unique and informative. A full-name index adds to the value of this work. (1994), 2015, 8½x11, paper, index, 2 vols., 772 pp. ISBN: 9781556139857 101-R0985
